looked truly real. One day he saw a terrifying dream that after fifteen days, the deadly Demon of Death would come to take him away. Gorelal cleverly prepared nine statues of himself and when on the 15th day he heard the Demon of Death coming softly, he quietly took his place between the statues. The Demon could not clearly recognize him and was greatly astonished to see ten Gorelals instead of one.
He rushed back to the God of Death and told the matter. The God of Death got annoyed and set out to take Gorelal himself. Gorelal was alert and stood motionless. The God of Death was immensely confused. But he thoughtfully made a plan. He said, "Gorelal, these sculptures would have been actually perfect but for one mistake." Gorelal was highly intolerant to hear any fault in his work.

He came out and asked, "Where is the fault?" God of Death caught him smartly and said, "HERE". The statues were faultlessly made but Gorelal was caught because of his pride and overconfidence.

(The students should write their own answers but these answers are just examples)

A. My Grandmother

My grandmother lives with me in our house. Her name is Bhumi Chawla. She is fifty eight years old. She is very active. She looks young and smart. She wears spectacles and dresses in sarees. She is a school teacher. She comes home in the afternoon. She is very strict with others at home but loves me a lot. She tells me stories. She bakes cake and makes poori for me on Sundays. I love my grandmother.

B. Myself

My name is Nayantara Krishnamurti. I am seven years old. I live with my grandfather, grandmother, uncle, father, mother and a younger brother. I study in New Model School. I live in Indirapuram, Bangalore. My school is very near my home. I go to school in a cycle-rickshaw. I like playing football and hide-and-seek. I also like solving puzzles. I don't like watching TV. I love my family and friends.

C. My best friend

Rajan is my best friend. He is eight years old. He is a fat boy. We are in the same class. He also lives next to my house. We go to school and play together in the evenings. We like same games.

Rajan tells me funny jokes. He lives with his father, mother, two sisters and grandfather. Sometimes we go and pluck roses from our neighbour's house. Rajan is not good in Maths. I help him solve the sums. I love my best friend.

D. My Pet

I want to have a small puppy for a pet. I will call him Kalu. It should be a small black puppy with a shiny fur. I want my puppy to obey my orders. I will teach him to catch my ball and bring it to me. I don't like pets that dirty the floor, tear things or make a mess. My pet will sleep in my room in a basket.

E. My Pet Dog

My father got me a small pup. I named my pet dog – Kalu. His fur is totally black. He is very tiny but his eyes shine brightly. He looks very cute with his small red tongue sticking out of his black mouth. I want him to play with me all the time. But Kalu sleeps a lot. He also dirties the floor with urine anywhere in the house. I make him sleep in a small basket in my room but he keeps moving around. He licks and bites my shoes and toys. This makes me very angry. Papa says Kalu is small and will learn.

N. Picture Story

Once there was a lion. He was hungry. He caught a mouse. The mouse folded his hands and said, "I am a small mouse. If you let me go I will help you." The lion laughed. He let the mouse go away.
